SEDALIA CUTTING SCRAPE.

Dr. W. N. Graham shoots B. F. Hughes. Death Probable.

Dr. W. N. Graham, business manager of the Sedalia Evening Democrat on Monday night, to use the words of the Capital reporter "made a wanton, cowardly and murderous attack upon Frank Hughes, using a knife and cutting Mr. Hughes in two places, when that gentleman was not expecting an attack, having given no provocation." Graham has a very unsavory and disreputable record of taking advantage of the weak and those whom he can bluff; and if this victim of his brutal nature should die, there is a strong probability that he might pay the penalty with his own life.

This scrape started in very peculiar way and one that amply vindicates Hughes of his connection in any scrape of this kind. Graham was abusing with all kinds of vile epithets a man who was attended by his little daughter, who was half-frightened to death, when B. F. Hughes overheard the repulsive language and approaching quarrel, intervened, seeking to prevent trouble. He accompanied the gentleman and little girl to the Sicher Hotel, where he again found Graham dogging their steps. The editor became very abusive and when Hughes sought to restrain him, he was slashed several times with the open knife that Graham was carrying in his overcoat pocket. Hughes is in a very dangerous condition and if he is only permitted to recover, promises to prosecute his assailant to the full extent of the law.

Fifth Anniversary.

In response to invitations issued by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Place, some fifty or sixty of Marshall's best people assembled at a reception last Wednesday evening in their pretty home on Odell. The entertainment was given to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the wedding of the host and hostess and was conspicuous for its informality. Mrs. Place received her guests, gowned in a black silk and velvet that was most becoming. She was assisted by Misses Mary Black and Alma Siler, Karl Mayer and Will Woods. The young ladies were most becomingly attired in pretty evening gowns.

The music and drawing room were decorated with potted plants, palms etc. It is a lovely house; the walls and floors and in fact every thing harmonizes perfectly. Quite a musical program had been prepared which was carried out in its entirety; both vocal and instrumental selections of Wagner Operas arranged by Liszt were given. Prof. Place delighted the guests with the "Two Grenadiers" by Schumann. Mrs. Place gave the "Rondo Brillante" by Von Weber. Meadames Mayer and Place played "Two Overtures" by Rossini. A piano solo by Miss Alma Siler, by Wieniawski finished the fine program given in a faultless manner which captivated the company.

The Baptist Entertainment.

The entertainment for the children of the Baptist Sunday school on Saturday evening of the 24th, at the church was a most enjoyable affair for both old and young. They had contributed generously in clothing, money and provisions for the orphans home in St. Louis, remembering how much more blessed it is to give than to receive. The program that was rendered was highly entertaining and when the exercises were over and Supt. Viley made the school a little talk. He told them he had now a little surprise for them, and when he drew back the curtains a great tree, all lighted and covered with presents for each child stood before them. The children, and grown folks too, were speechless with surprise. We feel sure, no tree ever has looked, or ever will look again, so beautiful to those happy little ones as did this tree with 236 presents on it, planned and arranged by their thoughtful and generous superintendent. The following is the program:

Opening Song—Joy to the World.
Recitation by Master Ralph Bolton.
Recitation—A Christmas Carol—Allie Brown.
Address—O. Houx.
Duet—Remember the Poor—Misses Sadie Bradford and Madie Ehrnman.
Recitation—"Nobody's Child"—Mary Rose.
Address—W. L. Boyer, on the "Orphans' Home."
Duet on violin and flute—Leland and Charles Viley.
Closing talk and collection by Supt. L. P. Viley.

A JAPANESE PARTY.

Mrs. O. W. Johnson, living on Odell, entertained the Junior Endeavor society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening, in a very novel and interesting way. The little ones were invited from 4 to 6 and they all, which means about fifty, were dressed in Japanese costumes. They looked very much like little Japs in their robes of many different colors of large figured goods. The idea was to make the entertainment as much as possible like a child's entertainment would be in Japan. Instead of using chairs they used stools, rugs and cushions. They romped and played different games and never did children have a happier time.

Little Florence Johnston is an unusually intelligent and interesting child and while only twelve years of age, made an admirable young hostess.

About five o'clock each child was seated with a platter and fried oysters with pickles, wafers and chocolate were nicely served.

Mrs. Johnston was assisted by her mother, Mrs. D. R. Ponce, of Texas, and Miss Cora Adams. These ladies understand how to entertain in real southern style and should be congratulated upon the success of their first effort in that direction in our city.

DYSPEPSIA is the cause of untold suffering. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla the digestive organs are toned and dyspepsia is cured.

St. Savior's Academy. Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies

MARSHALL.

MISSOURI.

This Academy, conducted by the Sisters of Loretto, is now in its 15th Scholastic year with very flattering prospects for the future.

The addition which was recently built gives ample accommodation to a large number of pupils.

Everyone must admit that this institution is the proper place for young ladies desiring a complete and refined education. Many of the best young ladies of Saline County are proud of having been pupils of St. Saviors Academy.

This institution is now too well known through this part of Mo. to need further comment. Pupils bringing satisfactory reference will be received at any time during the scholastic year.

YOUR OWN ILLUSTRATED LITERARY MAGAZINE.

THE MIDLAND MONTHLY

1.50 a year in Advance.

JOHNSON BRIGHAM, Editor.

A. B. SHAW, Managing Editor.

F. B. CONAWAY, Business Manager.

Published simultaneously at 513 Mulberry street, Des Moines, Iowa, and 806-807 Illinois National Bank Building, Chicago, Ill., by Conaway & Shaw, Publishers.

Why Send East for your Magazine when you can procure a better one for your own home reading in the Middle West.

Midland Monthly was established to develop and give an outlet to the rapidly rising literary talent of our home region; to preserve the early history and tradition which will otherwise be lost in the fast fleeting years; to illustrate in fine engravings the scenic beauties of our own land. And to record in illustrated literature the world's current events.

Help Home Development—Your patronage will stimulate and strengthen the enterprise.

Enlarged and Improved—Midland Monthly will be enlarged to the size of Munsey and McClure with the February issue. Its guaranteed circulation is now 25,000 copies, monthly.

The Great War History, Grant's Life, by Col. J. W. Emerson, closes the Shiloh and Corinth campaigns with the January issue, and begins the Vicksburg and Chattanooga campaigns in the February issue. This is pronounced by the greatest army officers the strongest, most reliable history of the war ever written.

Midland Monthly is the official organ of the Midland Women's Club.

Conaway & Shaw, Publishers, Des Moines, Iowa.

Subscriptions for 1899 will be received at $1.00 if sent before Jan. 12, '99
